

Melissa Vaughan
Program Manager

Melissa is Georgia Prevention Project's Program Manager. She provides support for our CPP, TAC, CEP and SET programs, and works with our Executive Director to provide day-to-day process expertise.

Melissa Vaughan grew up in the suburbs of Orlando where she attended the University of Central Florida and earned a Bachelor of Fine Arts in Performance . After graduating, she moved to Chicago where she studied and performed improv at iO Chicago and The Second City. Melissa then transitioned from leading roles to supporting parts, working for ten years as an administrative and sales professional with such companies as Man Investments, Alyeska Investment Group, and Chicago Athletic Clubs.

Melissa, her husband, and daughter recently moved to the Atlanta suburbs and are happy to be near family. In her spare time, Melissa enjoys riding her Peloton, reading, and playing outside with her daughter. She is also a certified Spinning Instructor and loves to share her passion for movement.
